Do you think the "CC" part is OK?

Remove the word "current" in the last sentence of the first paragraph and add your name and title and it's good to go! She wants it to come from you since he sent the letter to you.

This is fine except for the first paragraph where it says "the current contracts ended on February 29, 2016". I do not think they are "current" if they are ended, so he can delete "current".

Brief and to the point. Contract ended 2/29/16, decision was made not to renew/extend it in order to utilize TANF funds elsewhere, decision changed, emergency contract being processed for March through June, and RFP being processed for effective July.

Not sure about that. Jim should draft a response and I will find out who they want to send it from.
